THE EUROPEAN RESEARCHERS' NIGHT RETURNS

On September 27, the European Researchers' Night returns, an event promoted by the European Union to celebrate and highlight the daily contributions of people engaged in scientific research. INFN actively participates in the initiative, involving many Italian cities through its Divisions and National Laboratories. On this occasion, science leaves the laboratories to meet citizens in squares and cultural venues, offering demonstrations, games, interactive activities, and talks.

CATANIA BOOK FESTIVAL

From September 27 to 29 – Catania

The INFN Southern National Laboratories will once again participate in the Catania Book Festival. During the event, researchers will be involved in presenting popular science books on topics of great relevance to INFN, with the aim of raising public awareness about the importance of STEM disciplines.
